This set includes our standard Javelin Jet Bike kit as well as 12 new components to upgrade it to an "attack" variant - the Pilum Jet Bike. Two side mounted weapon options are included - our Heavy Bolt Gun and a Heavy Melta Gun. This kit is specifically designed to allow the two heavy weapon options to be magnetized and this kit includes 6 magnets as well. We also included 2 different bolt gun mounts that will allow the addition of different special weapons (plasma, melta, grenade launchers etc). These conveniently fit our combi-weapon conversion bits. Also included in the kit are a set of legs and arms that will allow you to use other companies torsos and heads to model an armored rider. Flight stand will be included. Please note the peg hole is sized for Games Workshops flight bases, in order to use our bases you will have to widen the holes diameter slightly.	See 121 for jetbike comparison p101 Codex Space Marines 2008. The meltagun is identifiable by its unique muzzle, a long cylinder with heat vents marked into it. The multi-melta is the heavy weapon equivalent, incorporating two of these muzzles one above the other. p101 Codex Space Marines 2008. The heavy bolter is a heavy version of the Boltgun. It is recognisable by its large block body and round silver muzzle with a large hole in the side. -The rules options for Space Marine attack bikes allow 2 weapon choices: Multi-melta or Heavy Bolter.

142	TRU-Scale Knight Praetorius "Order of the Empress's Tears" Conversion Kit - 6 The "Knights Praetorius" are the Empress' most loyal soldiers. Each order has a history as well as heraldry that is unique to its ranks. The Order of the Empress's Tears is named so because of the near annihilation the order faced when they were the sole defense for the Empress when her Flagship came under assault during the Battle of Permidian. Isolated and without support, the order was annihilated to almost the last soldier before reinforcements had arrived. Only 2 soldiers survived the Kin'rth attack against the Empress and her closest advisors. Because of this sacrifice, the Empress renamed the unit and the units heraldry includes the "red tears" of the empress as its main standard. Each resin kit comes unassembled and unpainted. The 28 mm TRU-Scale kit comes with enough components to assemble a squad of 6 "Knight Praetorius" - 12 assorted armored pauldrons, 6 torsos, 6 sets of legs and 6 equipment backpacks. Please note it is necessary to purchase heads, arms, weapons and bases to assemble as shown. Chapterhouse Studios Marine Heads and weapons are scaled appropriately for use with this kit. We recommend 28mm scale model kits for assembly with this kit. Examples of assembled and painted models by Worthy Painting Artist Alistair Armes are available here.	See 126 above. Yellow armour with black and white checked patterns is the colour scheme of the Lamenters Space Marine Chapter. They were created from the Blood Angels Chapter and so also use blood drop iconography. p113 Imperial Armour Volume 9 The Badab War Part 1 p35 Warhammer 40,000 Compendium 1989.
